

a little more milk. Serve hot. These are delicious.

Pressed Potatoes—Wash, peel and boil in salted water about eight potatoes. When done drain and dry over the fire for a moment. Take each potato and press it firmly in a cloth to give a round shape. Place in a buttered baking dish, pour over half a pint of stock, put a piece of butter on each potato, season with salt and pepper and bake in the oven until the potatoes have absorbed the stock.

Convict Gets Death Sentence.

Washington, Nov. 6.—James W. Finley, California convict, in Folsom prison, sentenced to the death penalty for assaulting R. J. Murphy in the prison December 29, 1904, must die, according to the decision of the U. S. supreme court today.

Cooler Tuesday.

Weather man predicts: Unsettled and somewhat cooler for tonight, with lowest temperature about 40 degrees. For Chicago and vicinity: Tuesday generally fair; winds becoming brisk westerly.

Chicago has a girl weighing 825 pounds. You can think what you please, but it's a distinction just the same.

A man's reputation oftentimes has to snicker every time it peeks at him.

A REAL SUFFRAGET

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst is one of the original suffragets. She is easily the most prominent figure among the English suffragets, with her clever daughter Christabel perhaps a close second. Just now she is touring the United States, speaking for the cause of woman's suffrage.

Mrs. Pankhurst is a little woman—but Oh, my! She speaks like a house afire. Wherever she appears she awakens great enthusiasm by her simple yet dramatic telling of the story of the battles between the suffragets and the English authorities, and of how she and many others were thrown into prison for daring to stand up for woman's rights.